

Cosa insegna la partecipazione del cittadino ai processi di ri-organizzazione dei servizi socio-sanitari? (What does citizens' participation teach about the re-organization process of health care services?)

Titolo Rivista: SALUTE E SOCIETÀ

Autori/Curatori: Vincenza Pellegrino, Maria Augusta Nicoli

Anno di pubblicazione: 2012 Fascicolo: 1 Lingua: IT

Numero pagine: 10

DOI: 10.3280/SES2012-001009

Presentazione:

The interactions between individuals and institutions become more complicated for many reasons: pressure for subjective recognition grows; political sites where people can debate on health care issues and on the values about clinical services are diminishing. In this sense, it is important to plan health care pathways developed with the collaboration between doctors and patients. Therefore citizens' participation could be considered a way in order to re-think collectively the main structures of the local welfare.

Keywords: Welfare locale, partecipazione dei cittadini, innovazione dei servizi, strumenti partecipativi, confronto attivo.